11011 KING III BUILDING

Look into the atrium of the King III Building and you'll find a hidden peace to balance the energy of your business day, beautifully landscaped inside and out.

At the center of this handsome building is a landscaped atrium two stories high. This unique design brings the outdoors in and floods each office with natural light from every angle.

Located on the King Street cul-de-sac, just east of Quivira and north of College Boulevard, the King III Building is only moments from Johnson County Community College and is immediately accessible from I-69 and I-435.

You will overlook it all from one of the 10 corner offices per floor, each with its own panoramic view of thriving Johnson County.

The internet providers are At&T and Consolidated Communications.

On-site covered and landscaped picnic area for tenants to enjoy the western views. Within a few blocks are all essential services, including banks, restaurants, and great shopping plus facilities for hiking, biking, and walking. Working doesn't get any better than this.

To find out more, call Debbie Schulte at (816) 936-8549 for a guided tour of the King III Building or go to the www.kessingerhunter.com website.
